A perspective view of a rectangular, dark, textured object, possibly a book cover or a piece of material. The object is shown from an angle, revealing its top surface and two adjacent sides. The top surface is dark and has a fine, woven texture. There are several lighter, irregular patches or indentations on this surface. The edges of the object are labeled with numbers: '2' is on the top edge, '4' is on the left edge, and '0' is on the right edge. The object is set against a light, textured background.
